DETAILED ACTION

Double Patenting

1. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

2. Claims 1-5 are provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-5 of copending Application No. 10/781,191. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because both inventions pertain to an apparatus capable of communicating in a wireless communications environment with logic for detecting another device and adjusting the transmit power.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Derosier et al. (U.S. 2002/0016180).

With respect to claim 1, Derosier et al. disclose an apparatus with logic for detecting that another device is also using a radio frequency channel and adjusting transmit power in response to the detection (Paragraph 57).

With respect to claim 2, Derosier et al. teach that the apparatus receives a message from the another device indicating the transmitted power level of the another device (Paragraph 57).

With respect to claim 3, Derosier et al. disclose an apparatus with logic for detecting that another device is also using a radio frequency channel and adjusting transmit power in response to the detection (Paragraph 57). Derosier et al. teach that the apparatus receives a message from the another device indicating the transmitted power level of the another device (Paragraph 57).

With respect to claim 4, Derosier et al. disclose an apparatus with logic for maintaining a known devices table, which includes entry for each other device operation on the radio frequency channel and a value that is indicative of the device's adjusted power for each device (Paragraph 57). Derosier et al. disclose for setting the transmit power of the apparatus to a level that to a minimum transmit power that is still greater than any of the other devices, thus the maximum transmit power minus the maximum value of the other devices (Paragraph 61).

With respect to claim 5, Derosier et al. disclose transmitting a value indicative of its own adjusted transmit power (Paragraph 65).

Conclusion

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Almgren et al. (U.S. 5,574,982) disclose a wireless communication device adjusting its transmit power according to detected values. Dent (U.S. 5,345,598) disclose performing transmit power adjustment according to a table. Hill et al. (U.S. 6,131,015) and Mitra (U.S. 5,551,057) disclose power control of wireless communication systems.
